

Rivertown Market Donates $40K to Area Nonprofits Following Recent Opening

Eight Detroit-based charities received contributions to support their missions

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 28, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Rivertown Market, which opened by Meijer earlier this month to significant fanfare in downtown Detroit's East Jefferson Corridor, highlighted its commitment to community by donating $40,000 to eight Detroit-based charities in support of their missions within the City.

"As a family-owned company, we care about the communities we serve and are proud to support these organizations that are making a difference in the City of Detroit," Store Manager Marcus Reliford said. "The community has embraced Rivertown Market since our doors opened, and we're excited to build on that momentum and work with the community to make an even bigger impact."

The following nonprofits each received $5,000 donations to support their missions:

- GIVE Merit will utilize the funds for its upcoming Alumni Summit.
- Greening of Detroit plans to further support its operations, tree planting and workforce initiatives throughout Detroit with the donation.
- Detroit PAL will earmark the funds to support its spring radiothon.
- COTS Detroit plans to use the funds for its operations.
- Bees In The D will utilize the funds to help restore and harvest honey at a blighted lot in Core City within North Corktown.
- Better Detroit Youth plans to use the funds to train young people to bake and sell brownies while building basic entrepreneurial skills, and create youth empowered apparel.
- Stem Genius will use the donation to continue helping youth in the areas of science, technology, engineering and math.
- Pure Heart Foundation will use the funds to provide its scholars with financial support while visiting their parent incarcerated for the holidays, as well as activate its outreach facility that provides 150 scholars access to afterschool activities and programs.

"We are so thankful for the financial contribution," said Yul Allen, Founder of STEM Genius. "Using creative and exciting hands-on, project-based learning educational programs are a key element to our success, but without corporate partners like Meijer Rivertown this success would be impossible. We understand the seriousness and urgency of continuing to establish strategic partners ... to accomplish such an ambitious undertaking for STEM Education in Detroit. We humbly and graciously thank you for your continued support."
